ICT Acceptable Use Policy: Staff and Pupils

1. Introduction

The internet is a valuable resource that can raise educational standards by offering both pupils and teachers opportunities to search for information from a very wide range of sources based throughout the world. However, some of the information to be found on the internet will be inappropriate for pupils and we feel it is important to have a policy in place that takes this issue into account.

The school has a duty to ensure that before using the internet with pupils, staff have had the opportunity to discuss how they will deal sensitively with inappropriate use. The following policy helps to define appropriate and acceptable use by both staff and pupils and has been further discussed with Governors and pupils themselves.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the following policies: Staff Mobile Phone, e-safety, Safeguarding and Anti-Bullying.

The implementation of this policy is the responsibility of all members of staff.

2. The Internet in School

The internet is a powerful technology, and we realise that it must play an important role in any learning environment. Through the internet, teachers are able to find information on topics they may be teaching, worksheets that have been written by other teachers and newsgroups of a particular interest to the school, and they will be able to share ideas with teachers around the region, nationally and internationally too. It aids planning and collaboration between schools. It provides an e-mail address to members of staff to enable them to keep in ready contact with other schools.

Parents can contact staff members via the school office email address.

3. The Internet in the Curriculum

The use of the Internet in the curriculum needs careful planning, and it should not be assumed that the children have the skills and knowledge of how to work safely in an online environment – for example, how to use search engines safely. Therefore, if the internet is to be used, the teacher should ensure that these points are covered in the interests of accessibility, and also of safety.

4. School Website

- The headteacher, or nominee, will be responsible for the overall content of the website, and will ensure the content is appropriate and accurate.
- All contact details on the school's websites will be the phone, email and address of the school office
- No personal details of staff or students will be published.
- Images, or any content that may easily identify a student, will be selected carefully, and will not be posted until authorisation from parents has been received.
- Students are not permitted to take or publish photos of others without permission from the individual.
- Staff are able to take images, though they must do so in accordance with school's policies in terms of the sharing and distribution of such.

5. Roles and responsibilities

E-safety is recognised as an essential aspect of strategic leadership in this school and the Headteacher, with the support of Governors, aims to embed safe practices into the culture of the school. The Headteacher ensures that the policy is implemented and compliance with the policy monitored.

All teachers are responsible for promoting and supporting safe behaviours in their classrooms and following school e-safety procedures. Central to this is fostering a 'No Blame' culture so pupils feel able to report any bullying, abuse or inappropriate materials.

As the children progress through the school there is a gradual progression in access to the internet. The rules for using the internet will be made clear to all pupils and children will have to follow the Rules for Responsible Internet Use (see appendix) prior to using the internet. They will be made aware that if they feel that the rules do not apply to them and therefore decline to sign the agreement in their planner, then this will result in an instant loss of access to the internet.

Parents are also asked to sign the planner to grant permission for their child to use the internet at school. If the parent chooses to sign the planner, they are accepting that their child will be held responsible for their actions when using the internet, and that some materials on the internet may be objectionable. They are asked to accept responsibility for setting standards for their child to follow when accepting, sharing and exploring information and media.

The rules apply to staff as well as pupils and staff (including temporary and regular supply teachers) will be asked to sign the Acceptable Use of the Internet form annually.

6. Monitoring

It is the role of the ICT coordinator to monitor and evaluate the overall effectiveness of internet use throughout the school and this will be conducted on a regular basis.

Each teacher will be responsible for monitoring the use of the internet within their classroom and ensure that unacceptable material is not accessed. The Coordinator has responsibility for checking that no inappropriate material is on the school system and the children are made aware that teachers have access to all their folders of work. The coordinator also ensures that the computer system is regularly checked for computer viruses with the SOPHOS system, taking advice from the school's provider of technical support, Virtue.

7. Managing the school network

The computer system / network is owned by the school and is made available to pupils to further their education and to staff to enhance their professional activities including teaching, research, administration and management.

The school reserves the right to examine or delete any files that may be held on its computer system or to monitor any Internet or email activity on the network, or perform any other activities that the school may see fit, in accordance with data protection and GDPR legislation.

8. Personal Use

The computers, electronic media and services provided by the school are primarily for educational use to assist staff in the performance of their job. Limited or incidental use of electronic media for personal purposes is acceptable, and all such use should be done in a manner that does not negatively affect the system's use for their educational purposes. However, staff are expected to demonstrate a sense of responsibility and not abuse this privilege.

Hindsford CE Primary School expects any staff using social media sites to ensure that their use is conducive to their professional status. They should not mention the school by name or in passing, or discuss individuals or groups within the school, or compromise the school values.

In addition, staff must ensure that any private blogs, bulletin boards, websites etc. which they create, or actively contribute to, do not compromise, and are not confused with, their professional role.

Staff must ensure that any engagement in any online activities does not compromise their professional responsibilities.

9. Use of school equipment in the home

It is recognised that there is an increasing need for staff to use school equipment in the home: to deliver remote learning; to access training; attend online meetings etc (particularly when in isolation). Staff who are using school hardware at home must do so by adhering to the principles of the Computer Misuse Act (1990).
